Header : Winner of Winter iPod Competition Announced

Mr Nav Bhogal of the Drycleaning Centre, Ashford, Middlesex was the lucky winner of the Renzacci iPod Winter Newsletter competition.

Independently judged by Market-Led services, Mr Bhogal correctly answered that Renzacci UK became a Plc in 1996, and his tie break answer was judged to be the most to the point and apt.

Mr Bhogal was presented with his new top of the range iPod Video Nano by Jason Alexander, Managing Director of Renzacci UK Plc, who telephoned him with the news the day before.

Mr Bhogal was genuinely shocked, and thought that Mr Alexander “was pulling his leg” when told he had won, commenting that he had never won anything, and had just entered the competition after reading the Renzacci Newsletter which had been posted to his shop, and thought that “he had nothing to lose” by entering.

“It was a real pleasure to call someone up literally out of the blue and tell them that they had won something” said Mr Alexander, “just for literally spending about 3 minutes of their time to enter a competition. We are already thinking up a prize for the new competition this spring, so as the saying goes... “Watch this space”!!”
